

Tequila Eyes

Randy Rogers Band

You look so out of place with these shades of neon on your face
It's not like you have you here
Your shadow on these smoky walls dont look good on you at all
No more than those damn midnight kiss
I can see the tequila in your eyes
Makes me wanna run, run, run Save you pain from the pain you cant despise before you come undone
Cause they cant hide the truth, I see right through those tequila eyes
I noticedd when I first walked in that the stool besides you needs a friend, looks like you could use one too
Girl, the trouble with the past, you cant kill it with a shot glass
Once it catches up with you I can see the tequila in your eyes, makes me wanna run, run, run
Save you from the pain you cant despise before you come undone, cause they cant hide the truth
You're dying trying to, I see right through those tequila eyes
You've either had too much, or havent had enough They cant hide the truth, youre dying trying too, I see right through those tequila eyes
Oh, I see right through those tequila eyes
Those tequila eyes
Those tequila eyes
