

With Every Little Kiss

Steven Curtis Chapman

Well, I still remember the first time
I felt the power of your kiss
It hit me like a bolt of lightning
I said, "I never will recover from this" And like the words from the mouth of a prophet
I have lived to see those words come true
Just look at me now, I'm still reeling With every little kiss I'm reminded
How wonderful it is to be in love with you
With every little look, with every little touch
With every little kiss Oh yeah Like a moth being drawn to a candle
This is something that I can't resist
I guess you could say I'm addicted
'Cause I keep coming back again and again And after all of the storms that we've weathered
All the seasons of change we've been through Somehow the flame keeps getting brighter With every little kiss I'm reminded
How wonderful it is to be in love with you
With every little look, with every little touch
With every little kiss you give me just a little taste of heaven
Just one more good gift that God has given
I don't want to miss one single little kiss Oh yeah With every little kiss I'm reminded
How wonderful it is to be in love with you
With every little look, with every little touch
With every little kiss With every little kiss I'm reminded
How wonderful it is to be in love with you
With every little look, with every little touch
With every little kiss With every little kiss, yeah
