

All I Want (Diplo Remix) [Preview]

Dawn Golden

Your eyes, they did flutter again
And my mouth it did hang wide
When you told me 'every little thing is going to be alright'
But we were younger then,
And now we're not
And if there was a plan made
Then we forgot about it
And if there was time
I could figure it out now
But life is short and i don't care for most of it. Because you're all that i want. Well i know i'm hard to take
And my bones are calling out your name
While i beat your cold windows
Break the locks on the gate while i try to forget i used to be something great Because you're all that i want.
