

You Haven't Told Me Anything

Keane

In a pearl gray room
One afternoon, one afternoon
What are you gonna do?
I hang on your words but there's nothing new
You take a beautiful thing
Pull off a wing, pull off a wing
The safety pin
They never shine quite as bright again
But you haven't told me anything
That I didn't already know
No, you haven't said a single thing
That I didn't already know
It's a thing I love
Stuck in the mud, stuck in the mud
Stuck in a rut
Not a piece in your puzzle or a paper cut
So same time next week
A kiss on the cheek, kiss on the cheek
And say after me
Everything's tied up nice and neat
But you haven't told me anything
That I didn't already know
No, you haven't sold me anything
That I didn't already own
I feel for you, I really do
Nothing adds up like you want it to
No words can mend this fix I'm in
Give me your words I won't even blink
Right between the eyes I won't feel a thing
Because you haven't told me anything
That I didn't already know
No, you haven't said a single thing
That I didn't already know
No, you haven't told me anything
No, you haven't told me anything
No, you haven't told me anything
