Lazy Susan

Shwayze

Lazy flower, my you've grown so tall
I have lost and loved him, you have seen it allLazy Susan, lazy through Hasn't got a think to do
Oh, but to sit there and light up the hillside
Sun-fried, black-eyed SueLazy Susan, lazy through
All the hills in love with you
Courted and cradled by heaven and hillside
Sun-fried, black-eyed Sue, black-eyed Sue, black-eyedBlack-eyed Sue, how happy you must be
Once, I too had someone loving meJohnny, Johnny, warm and true
That's how I remember you
This morning, just as I found you, up there on the hillside
With sun-fried, black-eyed lazy Susan, Susan
