

But Enough on That for Now

Vandaveer

We dipped our toes into the water
See if we would sink or swim
See myself in my little boy
Same werewithal within
Life is such a temporary thing
Such a temporary thing
It is absolutely cruel and beautifulWe chipped off icicles in the winter cold
When spearing in the snow
I caught up with my past
When I couldn't feel my toes
I was just a little boy again
Just a little boy again
It was momentary but, man, it was beautifulOh, but I got a long, long, long, long, long way to go
Yeah, I got volumes and volumes to show you
But enough on that for now
Yes, enough on that for nowWe watched the robins in the cold
Strip the hollies to the bone
All the branches bled red
You could nearly hear them moan
Life is such a symbiotic thing
Such a symbiotic thing
It is absolutely cruel and beautifulWell, I walked my boy through the cementery
Taking pictures in the park
Past graves both fresh and old
And a plot where 'x' had marked the spot
Next day it was dug
Yeah, the next day it was dug
Oh, life is young and beautiful
Then it's lonely and coldOh, but you've got a long, long, long, long way to go.
Yeah, you've got volumes and volumes to show me
But enough on that for now
Yes, enough on that for nowHoney, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Run, run, run, run, runWe carved our lanes through the rubble
Found our footing in the dark
I'm teaching you, you're learning me
Through the jitters and the sparks

I see lightning in your eyes
The thunder in your heart
I know it's temporary but, man, it's so beautiful We're filling up every home
And we're paving every path
We're tallying the tomes
But I've never been that good at math
Just passing face
Oh, ones and oh's and waves.
We are temporary but, man, it's so beautiful. Honey, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Run, run, run, run, run
Honey, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Honey, you've got to run
Run, run, run, run, run
