

People Aren't for Sale

Aldoush

Lyrics: Sue McKarness

You came to me on a windy day and showed me a face of pain

I took your gentle hand in mine and we listened to the rain

I can see the year scattered on your face, the memories you can't erase

Still lost in your darker days, searching for your hiding place

Why did you choose this life young girl?

What drove you in this way young girl?

Listen to me and don't forget that people aren't for sale, young girl

You look so young and strongly pure despite the lines of sorrow

And if I could I'd stopped you now and save you from tomorrow

Why did you choose this life young girl?

What drove you in this way young girl?

Listen to me and don't forget that people aren't for sale, young girl

Ohhhhhh, Young Girl, Mmmmm....

And when we talked you are so weakened

And make me cold with pain

For all those people who turned on you

And cast you to your fate

Let me lead you to a better life

Where people live in joy

I'll give you all you ever want

And you learn to love this world

Again, Again .....

Some losers are just sacrificed but don't be a victim this time

Leave behind the winter of your life and toss away those lies

Why did you choose this life young girl?

What drove you in this way young girl?

Listen to me and don't forget that people aren't for sale, young girl.
