Double Life

We As Human

You make an entrance like a queen,
Covered in beauty so the world cant see you.
Paint all your mirrors black as coal.
Can't stand the sight that your reflection shows.

Don't pretend that it never happened.
I was there and I know what you did.
You can't hide underneath that grin.
I see right through you.

Now
You face the consequences.
Now
You have to live with all of this.
Now
You get what you deserve when you
Live this double life.
Now
You run in case he knows the truth.
Now
Your past is catching up with you.
Now
You get what you deserve when you
Live this double life.

You tried but it won't wash away:
Bloodstained reminder of the choice you made.
So pray that no one ever sees
Beneath the surface buried six feet deep

Don't pretend that it never happened.
I was there and I know what you did.
You can't hide underneath that grin.
I see right through you.

Now
You face the consequences.
Now
You have to live with all of this.
Now

You get what you deserve when you
Live this double life.
Now
You run in case he knows the truth.
Now
Your past is catching up with you.
Now
You get what you deserve when you
Live this double life.

I see your double life
Is eating you alive.

Now that you're free to walk away,
Your guilty conscience will consume you.

Your double life is eating you alive.

You face the consequences!

Now
You have to live with all of this.
Now
You get what you deserve when you
Live this double life.
Now
You run in case he knows the truth.
Now
Your past is catching up with you.
Now
You get what you deserve when you
Live this double life.

When you live this double life.
When you live this double life.
