Pegasus Rising

Roshan & Shivani

I walk with the wind and the rain in my hair
My feet on the ground, my head in the air
I'm lost in this land and I'm destined to roam
Until I find the path to take me home

I'm a stranger in this world of sorrow and pain
Alone in my search for a place without a name
The earth holds me tight within its grasp
I'll fly when I find my way at last

You came with fire and kindness in your eyes
Singing a song of love
Taking me to the moon the stars and on and on
You showed me the way
You took my hands and sparked my soul

I fly with the sun and the moon in my hair
I'm riding the white winged horse through the air
I'm flying through the stars no more to roam
I'm flying, I'm finally going home
I'm going home, going home, home
