Taking Chances

Sharon Van Etten

Turn on the charm
Call to response now
Sitting on the porch
Looking for a way outTouched on the deep [?]
That's why I'm still here
Why do we think that we know plight?Even I've taken my chances
Even I've taken my chances
All you rememberIn the dark
On the way out
It's even enough sounds
It's the combination that takes emotions
Why don't we go now?
No need to think on our own now about itEven I've taken my chances
Even I've taken my chances
On youWhen you love all of you, they know all of you
Be alone and take, and you break for your sake
About to leave, about to leaveEven I've taken my chances
Even I've taken my chances
On you
