

Don't Regret It Now

Tyga

What if your mother regretted having your brother?
Would you forgive her and kiss her and tell her you love her
Or would you press it? 'Cause being the only child
Could leave you feeling desperate, in need of attention every second
But since you man of the house you never get it
Pops left without a smile but you never miss him
But when you reminiscing, you wished you had a father figure
At least weekend's man pay a visit, aw, forget it
What about lil' Jason up in prison?
You think an eight year old had bad intentions?
Pullin' the trigger on dad just barely killed him
Just wanted to protect moms from the brutal hittings
But he a kid so it's their word against his
Moms won't even testify scared of her husband
So he in for some years, don't even know what he did
But can't forget it now 'cause it's too late
We come to life when first class takes flight
Only sing the lines that make you press rewind
Even dealing with electric, I think that he regrets it now
Heart in light, dying love, everything looks better from above
You say it's getting old but I call it vintage love now
Don't regret it now
At a human's price trying to live that life
Can't slow down, don't regret it now
Determined by that dice, you only roll twice
You broke now, don't regret it now
Let's say you and your homey, best friends one and only
Confidant who I trust, never phony
Just I and the young guy, I called my brodie
We was like age of five since he known me
But now it's like hazy skies in the morning
Waking up police say he died hollows pointed Damn, I can't believe you God, why you want him?
I needed him more than you, now what you lonely?
Just two more months man, we was good money
Now he can't go to awards and meet stars
I'm all alone now ridin' in luxury cars
Life like a movie now someone press fast forward
So I can chill with him again and feel real

I rather have him here than this rap deal
But he can't regret it now, walking into that crowd
Had his jewelry on, next thing, man down
We come to life when first class takes flight
Only sing the lines that make you press rewind
Even dealing with electric, I think that he regrets it now
Heart in light, dying love, everything looks better from above
You say it's getting old but I call it vintage love now
Don't regret it now
At a human's price, trying to live that life
Can't slow down, don't regret it now
Determined by that dice, you only roll twice
You broke now, don't regret it now
Work twice as hard to get half as far
Love has legs, feet don't fail me now
Brand new boy, brand new year
Curtains open, I am a grand finale
Did you get my voice mail?
Sorry I'm out having the time of my life
And I'm gonna do whatever you'd do
If you could be me for one night
If you could be me for one night? Night
Could you live you're life under lights? Lights
Lemonades, cameras, ice, ice
4 a.m. morning flights, flights
I don't think you can handle that pal
I don't think you can handle this crowd
It's to-to-too late, can't regret it now
It's to-to-too late, can't regret it now
We come to life when first class takes flight
Only sing the lines that make you press rewind
Even dealing with electric, I think that he regrets it now
Heart in light, dying love, everything looks better from above
You say it's getting old but I call it vintage love now
We come to life when first class takes flight
Only sing the lines that make you press rewind
Even dealing with electric, I think that he regrets it now
Heart in light, dying love, everything looks better from above
You say it's getting old but I call it vintage love now
Don't regret it now
At a human's price, trying to live that life
Can't slow down, don't regret it now
Determined by that dice, you only roll twice
You broke now, don't regret it now

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlyrics.com/>