Smellin' Coffee

Chris Rice

Last thing I remember, sayin' bye to yesterday
Glad to see it over, pullin' covers over my head
But what were You doin' while I dreamt the night away
'Cause I can tell that somethin's different
And my eyes ain't even open yetI'm smellin' coffee, birds are singin' just outside
Here comes Your mercy streamin' in with the morning light
My heart is racing, waking up to Your smile
It's a good morning, it's a good morningWell, I remember readin' You're the God who never sleeps
And while I've been dreamin' You've been singin' over me, yeah
Singin' about my freedom, wakin' me up to hear Your song
And now I can't dance hard enough
'Cause yesterday is gone, gone, goneI'm smellin' coffee, birds are singin' just outside
Here comes Your mercy streamin' in with the morning light
My heart is racing, waking up to Your smile
It's a good morning, it's a good morningEvery little breath, every heartbeat
Is a gift of love that You give to me
You keep givin' even when I'm asleep
'Cause I know You never stop watching over meI wake up, my past is gone
'Cause Your mercy's new with the mornin' sun
I'm forgiven, I'm free, it's a brand new day
'Cause Your faithfulness is the greatest, heyI'm smellin' coffee, birds are singin' just outside
Here comes Your mercy streamin' in with the morning light
My heart is racing, waking up to Your smile
It's a good morning, it's a good morning
