

The Quiet Inside

America

The rain has gone
But the sun did follow
Everything is brighter than it was before
There is no reason
To forego tomorrow
That's no stranger knocking at your door Look at the truth
And the rest will follow
Walk into the river
It's the great divide
Above the mountain and the valley so low
Everything is waiting inside
Oh the quiet inside
Oh the quiet inside (ah) The gray has gone
And the bloom is yellow
Far across the bay
There are sails today
I hear the birds and the waves below me
There is nothing more to say The road is long
But not hard to follow
You will find the markers
If you so decide
Above the mountain and the valley so low
Everything is waiting inside Oh the quiet inside
Oh the quiet inside (ah)
Deep in the forest
The road will narrow
You will catch your breath from the great unknown
Listen to the words
That come with no sound
Then you'll know that you're not alone Oh the quiet inside
Oh the quiet inside (ah) Ooooooooooh
Ooooooooooh
Ahhhhhhhhh
