Close Your Eyes

Dan + Shay

Monday mornin' here with you
Under this bed sheet parachute
Skin so soft, eyes so blue
The lighting strikes and the rain falls too
So let it fall, let our worries wash away
Let it roll down our windows, all wrapped up we'll stayLady, we can lay here and be lazy
Let it all go, I'll be a pillow, slide just a little closer, let me warm you up
Darling, drown in a river that you're caught in
I wanna get lost in your silhouette, and don't forget that red, wet kiss on my lips.
We don't have to go outside, baby just close your eyesHold your body like a sweet, sweet rose
From your long brown hair to your curled up toes
Pull you in, keep you close
I wanna know the you nobody knows.
Baby fall, you're safe here in my arms
We can cover all the windows and hide out in the darkLady, we can lay here and be lazy
Let it all go, I'll be a pillow, slide just a little closer, let me warm you up
Darling, drown in a river that you're caught in
I wanna get lost in your silhouette, and don't forget that red, wet kiss on my lips.
We don't have to go outside, baby just close your eyesLady, we can lay here and be lazy
Let it all go, I'll be a pillow, slide just a little closer, let me warm you up
Darling, drown in a river that you're caught in
I wanna get lost in your silhouette, and don't forget that red, wet kiss on my lips.
We don't have to go outside, baby just close your eyesI'm gonna hold your body like a sweet sweet rose
From your long brown hair to your curled up toes
