

Mud In Your Eye

Brian McFadden

Scarred bruised battered and broken
Home truths better unspoken a closed door now everything's open
After the fall still we got to crawl
Too Much did you hear whispers
While Fat cats are stroking their whiskers
Gruges are only for losers the seeds they sow how will they grow
Is the water under our bridge still slowly subsiding
And do the memories make you cry so while you're scratching your head
Confused still deciding take this before we die
Here's Mud in your eye Tick Tock the clock is still running
What's this that we are becoming Waste not focus on loving so save our pride and enjoy the ride
Is the water under our bridge still slowly subsiding
And do the memories make you cry so while you're scratching your head
Confused still deciding take this before we die
Here's Mud In Your Eye Call of the dogs and take the black flag down bury the hatchet deep into my crown
Flip the world and turn it right way round
Don't let yourself down What is truth or fiction cause I can't deal with the friction
A clear mind positive vision
Cause After all we build the wall
Is the water under our bridge still slowly subsiding
And do the memories make you cry
So While you're scratching your head confused still deciding Take this before we die
Here's Mud In Your Eye
