Now Is The Time

Damone

I can put your pieces back together
While I take the rest of you apart
I didn't think my luck would last forever
But I think right here is where
We'll start
When the lines of the past have been blurred
It gets much easier to tell those around
To let go[Chorus]
Now is the time when we find out
What's really happening how was the ride of your life?
Now is the time when we find out
What's really happening how was the ride of your life of your life?You can put your faith in me forever
While everything around you falls apart
When you lost what you got when they took you to bet
And they beat you down for every penny well then
You can bet that I know who they are
When the lies from the past have left you burned
It gets much easier to tell those you love
To let go[Chorus]Of your life....[Chorus]
