

Exploding Machines

Embrace

Bright explosion in the sky
A light that burnt my eyes made me come alive
I thought I'd seen a sign, prayed that I was right
As tears filled my eyes, blurred the scene Now, a sun inside me burns
Bleaching all my bones and the rising smoke
Will carry me away to another place
I never lost my faith just my way 'Cause I exploded into life that day
I'll never look back, I'll never look back Dark is flowing through the cracks
There is no turning back, I'm giving into doubt
I held my candle up for forty days and night
Like a firefly in the big black sky 'Cause I exploded into life that day
I'll never look back, I'll never look back
And no one can take these feelings away
I'll never go back, I'll never go back I'll make the river run with pictures that I take
As the dying sun spits colors in it's wake
Save the city now, you'll only fan the flames 'Cause I exploded into life that day
I'll never look back, I'll never look back
No one can take these feelings away
I'll never go back, I'll never go back Exploding machines
Exploding machines
