The Scientists

written a list of stupid things this would be the king crowned, sitting above the rest by a neck it only takes a momentary lapse they're spotted from one hundred paces as a concensus would prove - proveconcensus provedthe point is insignificant when considered in comparison to the sound of silence experienced when the situation arises it feels like the armaggedon knocking a wiring to the national grid you don't need a reservation to join - join(just) too little time too little timepedal stamp
