

Something Must Break

Jawbox

To waste and choose or raise the dead
With pain behind go straight ahead
Room full of people grouping as one
I can't break out now, the time just won't come To waste and choose which way to go
Decide for me, please, let me know
Looked in the mirror, saw I was wrong
If I could get back to where I belong, where I belong To waste and choose which way to go
I paused for one whose signs forbode
If we were immortal, we would not bear
Washed up on the beach here, struggle for air I see your face still in my window
Tormented clouds won't set me free
