

Weight of the World

Token Entry

Weight Of The World

Our lives are like the weather changing all year round when you feel the changes most is when your luck is all run down

We've been through it at one time or another depression is coming down so hard feel like you're gonna smother

The weight of the world is on your shoulders pushing down more and more
the weight of the world is on your shoulders never felt like this before
