World Away

Tweedy

You wanna see me disappear, well it starts here
I'm trying my best not to say
What you don't wanna hear, but it's alright
You can cover your, cover your ears
I face my fears just once a year
The feeling I get when I want to return
Everything that's in my life
I'll be busting at the seams
It's a gamble either way
You play your cards
It's another tidal wave
I'll be waiting with my eyes closed
No, I don't want to be the one who lives a lie
But never knew it was just a world away
From where I can feel like I never felt before
So lock the door
You wanna see me disappear, well it starts here
Trying my best just to say
What you don't wanna hear, but it's alright
You can cover your, cover your ears
It's a gamble either way
You play your cards
It's another tidal wave
I'll be waiting with my eyes closed
No, I don't want to be the one who lives a lie
But never knew it was just a world away
From where I can feel like I never felt before
So lock the door
You're the one who told me to pack up all my things
And leave in the morning, it's just a world away from here
And I will never bother you no more
And that's for sure
Take me alive, you'll never, you'll never
Take me alive, you'll never, you'll never
Take me alive, you'll never, you'll never
Take me alive
No, I don't want to be the one who lives a lie
But never knew it was just a world away
From where I can feel like I never felt before

So lock the door
You're the one who told me to pack up all my things
And leave in the morning, it's just a world away from here
And I will never bother you no more
And that's for sure
