

I Belong to You (Acoustic Version)

Caro Emerald

Under the stars the shines one light
That always glistens, always listens to the whispers of the night
When skies are black, full of despair
I asked the sun to tell the moon that two of us are there
The afterglow that's down below
Is when I see your smile
And in your eyes, true love assigns
Forever is a word that cries
That I belong to you
That endless nights are far away
And I love you
Could never never never
And I run into
I see you don't look down and now I feel the truth
We overlooked as ocean deep
But now this river that we're swimming through is promises we keep
The sun comes up, there is no heat
'Cause what we're feeling is revealing, I'll be damned
So let it burn, it takes its turn
One we never would allow
There is no heart that chance will break
Nothing else could ever stop us now
'Cause I belong to you
That endless nights are far away
And I love you
Could never never never
And I run into
I see you don't look down and now I feel the truth
I belong to you
The afterglow that's down below
Is when I see your smile
And in your eyes, true love assigns
Forever is a word that cries
That I belong to you
That endless nights are far away
And I love you
Could never never never
And I run into
I see you don't look down and now I feel the truth
I belong to you
