

One Track Mind

Lucky 7

I watch the clock pass by, she left me all alone again.
Kicking stones down the street, I should've listened to my friends.
She only thinks of herself, there's nothing left for me to do.
I can uncross my heart, I can convince myself to choose.
So out of touch.
Can wipe the stars from my eyes.
But I hope that this time affections will be realized.
She got a one track mind.
And now it's leaving me behind.
Her one track mind.
Still I'll love her 'til the day I die.
So I wrote them down, all the words I could say to you.
Just to tear them up, decided to ignore the truth.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>