

I Can't Be Your Friend

D.H.T.

This might come as quite a shock
But I've given it a lot of thought
This thing that's come between us can't be ignored
I've taken all I can
This is where it's gonna end
I can't be your friend anymore And I can't be accused
Of not being there for you
How many nights have you shown up at my door
I hope you understand
That this wasn't in my plans
But I can't be your friend anymore It's killing me to know you
Without having a chance to hold you
And all I wanna do is show you
How I really feel inside
You can run to me, you can laugh at me
Or you can walk right out that door
But I can't be your friend anymore So baby, now it's up to you
Do I win or do I lose
Will my heart fly or lie broken on the floor
Oh take me as I am
I wanna be your man
But I can't be your friend anymore
