I'm Sorry I Love You

The Magnetic Fields

A single rose in your garden dwells Like any rose it's not itself It is my love in your garden grows But let's pretend it's just a roseWell, I'm sorry that I love you It's a phase I'm going through There is nothing that I can do And I'm sorry that I love youDo not listen to my song Don't remember it, don't sing along Let's pretend it's a work of art Let's pretend it's not my heartWell, I'm sorry that I love you It's a phase I'm going through There is nothing that I can do And I'm sorry that I love youThe rose will fade when summer's gone The song will fade and I'll be gone Because my heart is dying too And it's all the same to youWell, I'm sorry that I love you It's a phase I'm going through There is nothing that I can do And I'm sorry that I love youWell, I'm sorry that I love you It's a phase I'm going through There is nothing that I can do
