

Justice Prevails (Demo)

Further Seems Forever

You make it so easy to run
Well, I'm still crawling, I'm still crawling
Now I'm game for the feeding chain
And they're still scraping, they're still clawing Taking measures to see myself
But I seem to forfeit all my findings
It's not easy to take these steps
Or to fake these breaths but the urge is blinding And you can deny this but I won't let you
And you can defy this, it's not beneath you
And we can try this but were we meant to?
And this will define us and then we'll be through, be through Found you with him again
Found out about everything
And you can deny this all you want
And you can pretend that you weren't caught
But this is more than you and me
This is about being deceived, being deceived You should have waited 'til you ended this Then you'd have nothing to confess
I thought you'd leave me next to nothing
But now you're leaving me much less, leaving me much less And I will get through this until justice prevails
And I gave you this, for nothingness and lies
