In Desperate Need Of Adventure

Deaf Havana

Did you honestly think I'd forget your name?
But we are close to home and that's all we need
We've been driving this way now for weeks
But things could be worse, things could be worse

Just remember not to be selfish, keep it calm
And don't believe a single word that you heard about me
We'll still be driving this way now for weeks
There are cracks appearing that you'll soon see

Don't believe a single word you heard about me
Don't believe...

The temperature is rising and it's a shame about your heartbeat
And I'm not scared that this happening
The conversation sparks without a single pulse
And I can still see you

(And don't believe a single word you heard about me)
And don't believe a single word you heard about me
(And don't believe a single word you heard about me)
Don't believe...

Just keep it slow, don't ever let him know
That even though, I actually meant something I wrote
Just keep it slow, don't ever let him know
That even though, I actually meant something I wrote

No, I'm not scared that this is happening
When the conversation sparks without a pulse
Without a single doubt
I can still see you

See you...

Keeping it together for the best of it
At least we can still sit and drink the night away
It's been a while since we smoked our last cigarette
I think that we can all agree we need to right what we wronged

Just keep it slow, don't ever let him know
That even though, I actually meant something I wrote
Just keep it slow, don't ever let him know
That even though, I actually meant something I wrote

And don't believe a single word that you heard about me
And don't believe a single word that you heard about

Just keep it slow, don't ever let him know
That even though, I actually meant something I wrote
Just keep it slow, don't ever let him know
That even though, I actually meant something I wrote

I actually meant something that I said
I actually meant something I said
