

Ecce Homo

Aktikone

Okay, I think by now we've established
 Everything is inherently worthless
 And there's nothing in the Universe
 With any kind of objective purpose.
And you can scream for a hundred years;
 Split the sky with a thousand curses
 To tell the evil that man do
And you wouldn't even scratch the surface.
 Too many implications
 Not enough time to make them explicit.
 Too many generalizations
 Not enough time to make them specific.
 And I spread my vile seed
 From the Atlantic to the Pacific.
 Now I'm begging you on my knees
 Please don't make me get down and sniff it
 Cause if I got more comfortable
Surely, I'm more complicit.??? the luxury of ignorance
 I was born into this now I'm dying because of it
 Yes, it's us against them again
 Smashing the system into the dirt now
 We gobble brown M&M's
 Put the whole thing onto a t-shirt
 I heard about Audre and the master's tools
 Something about Joe chasing a storm in a mud
 I could of sworn I saw ???
 Standing on a latter ??? with the slugs
 And it's such a weird world
 It feels real wrong smiling
 I see the shining sea ???
I prefer to make a living, boy, on ???I heard them say the white man gets existential angst
 When he ran out of other problems
 Cause the thing about those problems was
 Typically, more money would solve them
 We're braking out of our bodies now
 Time to see what's underneath them
 And about my ??? self
 What would I say would I ever meet him
 I guess your guilty of a terrible crime

And I know. It was my birth.
Doing twenty-six to life now on planet earth
I was taken in to custody by a janitor
You know our life is laborious
But admit it's predictable
When all the figures are findable
All feelings are malleable
I'm desperately ?addicted?, but functional.
Don't want to be evicted from the wonderful underworldLook at this youngish man
Already half way off with his pants
He's doing something weird with his hand
He's got a multitude of outrageous plans
And he's still trying to cough up
That which he choked on in the churches
Look at him now loitering in front of a vacant store front
Bearded and bedecked in army surplus
No whites are giving a shit
When everybody's telling him he's full of it
He forgets if he felt oppressed or depressed
Or which one came first in this crazy mess
Is he taking too much, or not enough or which one was the worst wrong with this sort of stuff
And he was so unsure if being ignored
Was half the ?pain? of being absurd
And that's a lot to say without a wordBut I know it's a lot more than just being bored.
I know it's nothing more than just being born.
I know it's a lot more than just being bored.
I know it's nothing more than just being born.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnlrics.com/>