Here We Go Again

Poco

When I last saw you I couldn't find a reason why
I felt kind of blue watching you
Hello my sweet friend, I've come to sing a lullaby
Can I make amends? Or should I try?Ooh, mama can't you see it's not the same?
Lookin' back behind
We can't start a new but then
Here we go againSearching back to you, I've finally come to realize
When we were as two tellin' lies
Livin' so afraid we never read between the lines
It's different from today, sun it shinesHere we go againWhen I first saw you I knew I couldn't change my mind
My twisted point of view another kind
But love is what we choose, and not for us to reason why
Sometimes love we lose and never tryOoh, could it really be it's not the same?
Lookin' back behind
Is such a silly game
Here we go again
