

Heaven Is Loud

Travis Greene

Can you hear the sound of Heaven?
If you listen, then youâ€™ll recognize
Itâ€™s not quiet. I get excited.
When I shout out loud, you should try it.

(Bridge)

The same God who created the harp, created the lead guitar
And has anointed us to play until the strings fall off
God created vocal tones and made for us microphones
So we will sing to Him a new song

(Chorus)

Heaven is loud, angels cry out
As they bow down, and worship Him now
There is a sound above the clouds
Glory rain down, â€™cause heaven is loud

Thereâ€™s a trumpet, ready to blow out
Christ is coming, let the people shout
Voice of triumph, weâ€™re on one accord
House of Zion, prepare ye the way of the Lord

Bridge/Chorus

Follow me

Through the gates of jewels down the streets of gold
Thereâ€™s a sound that I hear in the depths of my soul
So Iâ€™m walkinâ€™, got no time for talkinâ€™
(It gets louder as I go)
I see Moses and Jonah and David and Joseph and Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob and Hold it; could it beâ€™yeah, itâ€™s the woman from the well
I see Paul and Silas, and the guy from the jail
And theyâ€™re all at the throne screaming holy

You are holy, God youâ€™re holy

Angels cry out, as they bow down, worship Him now
Glory rain down
Power rain down
Breakthrough rain down
Heaven is loud
