

Drop In the Sea

Kula Shaker

Questions unfolding like books
And their pages, they just keep on turning for me
And I keep on asking why every question
Will somehow relate back to me
Oh, I was told by a knight of the sun
That wisdom could set people free
Be content in your questions
And may I just mention, you're only a drop in the sea
Direction revolving, these questions, I'm solving
But nobody hears what I say
My answers, unspoken, of sweetest emotion
Believe how I feel today, just believe how you feel today
