Baseline

B+Q+S

Take my love with care, dont you dare
Break me down and leave me cold
I'd give you the rare thoughts I share
Would you have my secret soul?I whispered it was strange and hopes that she love it
Every time I open up my mouth to the public
Every time I wish I could explain it
This, my fifteen minutes of anguish
Its over, before I even told her
Before I even reached my hands out to the clover
Luck, the lightening struck
Now I'm in the strobe lights(Chorus)
But it takes more than that
On my own, when youre gone
Talking bout my baseline
If you ever cant findIll be on my baselineTake me and compare, dont you dare
Make me into someones mould
I know you dont play fair
You would swear
You could have me an not grow old
But id still love herI whispered it was strange and hope shell reply
Every time I open up my heart with the line
Every time I miss, Id like a second chance
Kiss; take from my lips what you can
Its finished before Im even in it
Before I even heard the word back from the cynics
Luck, the lightening struck
Now Im in the strobe lights(Chorus)
But it takes more than that
On my own, when youre gone
Talking bout my baseline
If you ever cant find
But it takes more than that
On my own, when youre gone
Talking bout my baseline
If you ever cant find
Ill be on my baselineI pretend you could fill that void
That I've been dreaming ever since I was a boy
Ive been living in a place with a venue that Im at Dictates how much I enjoy

The night and the mood that Im in
But I should really find the right thing
Cause I need to make my mind spin
And not need women, and not need ginSunday morning came without warning
The parties over, all of my friends have gone away
The rain is pouring
Now see whats important
Electric eyes and blinding lights in store(Chorus)
But it takes more than that
On my own, when youre gone
Talking bout my baseline
If you ever cant find
But it takes more than that
On my own, when youre gone
Talking bout my baseline
If you ever cant find
Ill be on my baseline
