

Paying the Price

Ultimate Painting

Why do you dress as looking down from high above
Really made your way and stopped yourself from staying
You moved yourself and now you're paying the price
There's only so much you can take before you break
When will you accept the fact I'm the one written down
You've really made your way you stopped yourself from staying
You moved yourself and now you're paying the price
There's only so much you can take before you break
You've really made your way you stopped yourself from staying
You moved yourself and now you're paying the price
Before you break
