

What Would I Be

Robin Thicke

Oh yeah yeah,
What would i
without you lovin me id be bad and sad and lonley tryin to get you back to me ohh, i wake up every morning the same things, troubling my mind i say to myself, come on now it's only just a matter of time but the cold winds blow and the hard rains fall and there's only one reason i can stand through it all what would i
without you lovin me simply put, im all messed up selfishness and guilt got in my blood and im tryin baby (tryin so hard) trying to clean myself up... but with out you
im so blue seeing red thinking bad nightmares, morning sweats foolish regrets what would i
without you lovin me just when i think i cant make it oh you kiss me on the lips you say dont you worry baby youre the one, the only one to silence the clouds, and bring out the sun the only one that makes me feel like i can be someone (yeah, oooh) come on now
oh yeah yeah

what would i be without your love id be bad and sad and lonley id be so bad and so sad and so lonley only tryin to get you back to me baby tryin to get you back to my love tryin to get you back to my heart
