Burn Baby Burn

Ash

You're all I have in this teenage twilight
Your golden hair and pale blue eyes
But through all the days and the sleepless nights
We have never been satisfiedTumbling like the leaves
Yeah, we are spiraling on the breeze
Almost to the point of no return
Everything will burn baby burnLook into my tired eyes
See someone you don't recognize
Binds that can't be untied
Oh yeah, this is slow suicideFeelings that I can't disguise
And never will be reconciled
Oh, something inside has diedYou walk like your in a daze
Unresponsive eyes in a distant gaze
Like all the good times have flown away
And their memory leaves a bitter tasteTumbling Like the leaves
Yeah, we are spiraling on the breeze
Destructive love is all we have
Destructive love is all I amLook into my tired eyes
See someone you don't recognize
Binds that can't be untied
Oh yeah, this is slow suicideFeelings that I can't disguise
And never will be reconciled
Oh, something inside has diedVicious bitter words
Becoming more and more cruel
But you always take me back
And let me lick your woundsTumbling like the leaves
Yeah, we are spiraling on the breeze
Almost to the point of no return
Every thing will burn baby burnLook into my tired eyes
See someone you don't recognize
Binds that can't be untied
Oh yeah, this is slow suicideFeelings that I can't disguise
We're living in a compromise
Oh, something inside has died
