

Broken

Ramin Karimloo & Hadley Fraser

She clasps her hands together and prays that God will hear her
So she can finally be saved
She says, "Good night I love you, I'll leave the light on for you."
They think that she is very brave.
Broken, Broken
She will never be the same
Broken, Broken
She will never be the same
It's to think things over to figure out what happened
But the answer's somehow lack
I can seem to tell her
That I'm scared of losing
When it's too late to turn back
Broken, Broken
She will never be the same
Broken, Broken
She will never be the same
Ooh, ooh, ooh She keeps repeating to me
Why it happened to her
What did I do that was wrong?
So look at me and tell me
Please don't try to save me
Have you loved me all along?
Broken, Broken
She will never be the same
One, two, three, four
Ooh, ooh, ooh (Repeat)
