Tomorrow

Dexter Freebish

To all that came before me, to all that left their mark
To all that tried and failed so, to all that now are gone
I see myself in your words, I see you in my smile
Your wisdom's like a lighthouse that guides me when I'm lostI find myself at this crossroad, broken dreams
And I don't know what tomorrow might bringI'm like a ball of clay that you molded with your hands
Raised me without shadows and baptized me in the light
To those that came before me I know I'll see you soon
And like a distant star in the night I'm reaching out for youI find myself at this crossroad, broken dreams
And I don't know what tomorrow might bringI find myself at this crossroad, broken dreams
And I'll never know what tomorrow might bringWhat tomorrow brings
What tomorrow brings
What tomorrow brings
...

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/