

Anthem

RollerBlue

I've reaffirmed my vow
To stay inside the colour
The colour zone of love
Because there is no other You could have told me then
You could have told me more
Why act out and pretend
Til there's too much to ignore I don't belong here
But I'm not giving up the fight
Waited so long here
Always believing what is right
Through this pain
We will survive
It's the price we pay
The anthem of our lives These times they will not last
They're so easily come and gone
They'll be moments in the past
We need to look beyond You could have told me then
You could have told me more
Why act out and pretend
Til there's too much to ignore I don't belong here
But I'm not giving up the fight
Waited so long here
Always believing what is right
Through this pain
We will survive
It's the price we pay
The anthem of our lives

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>