Loveless

Sarah McLeod

Here I go again, looking for a friend
Trying to find the love that's gone
Waiting for someone to tell me
What I've done so wrong
Searching all around, living underground
Hoping that the tide will change
Everybody has an answer
But they can't explain
When all I need is a friend, someone to share my world
I'm just a lonely man, doing what I can
Trying to understand
Why I'm loveless, loveless, just another heart in distress
Loveless, loveless, trying to find a way to fill this emptiness
Loveless, loveless, looking for a heart that just won't miss
Loveless, why am I so loveless?
It's been a little rough, finally had enough
Drowning in a sea of pain
Haunted by a voice that tells me
That I'm all to blame
Demons from the past, heart that's made of glass

Will I ever see the light?
Don't need anyone to tell me
What I've known my whole life
Am I the only man, just a fool in love with love?
No I'm just a lonely man, doing what I can
Trying to understand
Why I'm loveless, loveless, just another heart in distress
Loveless, loveless, trying to find a way to fill this emptiness
Loveless, loveless, looking for a heart that just won't miss
Loveless, why am I so loveless?
Yeah, I'm loveless, loveless, just another heart in distress
Loveless, loveless, trying to find a way to fill this emptiness
Loveless, loveless, looking for a heart that just won't miss
Loveless, why am I so loveless?
Yeah, I'm loveless, loveless
Loveless, loveless, trying to find a way to fill this emptiness
Loveless, just won't miss
Loveless, why am I so loveless?

Trying to find a way to fill my emptiness
