As You Go

Red

Darkness creeps into day light
You're leaving
Treasure sitting in our mind
The memoriesThe time we had was fading
The strength is just believing nowThe world I know can hate you
The world I know can break you
But as you go remember
I'm by your side
The love within
You can't hid these tears that burn
And through it all remember
I'm by your side as you goBittersweet the dreams we made
We're so young
We thought that this could never end
Don't be afraidNever stop believing
You find a new beginning nowThe world I know can hate you
The world I know can break you
But as you go remember
I'm by your sideThe love within
You can't hid these tears that burn
And through it all remember
I'm by your side as you goI will never let you go
As you go
I will never let you goThe world I know can hate you
The world I know can break you
But as you go remember
I'm by your sideThe love within
You can't hid these tears that burn
And through it all remember
I'm by your side as you goThe world I know can hate you
The world I know can break you
But as you go remember
I'm by your side
