

Blue Bilet Doux

UB40

Crying on the words you wrote me this morning
Tears felt like rain as the pain kept on going
And I say it was true
I still can't believe you left without warning
Told me in a text without even calling
I never knew how I was hurting you That blue bilet deux signed and sealed by you
I just can't ignore
It's strictly too blue but my heart may pursue you even more I can't hold you back from wanting to run free
Everybody knows that love don't come easy
I owe you happiness too
If you change your mind you know I'll be waiting
Just give me a sign I'm anticipating
One small proof is all that I ask of you
That blue bilet deux signed and sealed by you
I just can't ignore
It's strictly too blue but my heart may pursue you even more
That blue bilet deux signed and sealed by you
I just can't ignore
It's strictly too blue but my heart may pursue you even more I'll be waiting here for you when you need me
Gonna do my best but you know it ain't easy
I'm just a guy all I can do is try
When you're all alone and start reminiscing
Think of me at home and how much I'm missing you
If only you knew
That blue bilet deux signed and sealed by you
I just can't ignore
It's strictly too blue but my heart may pursue you forever more
Sad but true it's so hard to undo all the loneliness
Everyone must be responsible for their own happiness
Sad but true it's so hard to undo all the loneliness
Everyone must be responsible for their own happiness
Sad but true it's so hard to undo all the loneliness
Everyone must be responsible for their own happiness
Sad but true it's so hard to undo all the loneliness
Everyone must be responsible for their own happiness
