

For You

Matisyahu

Undo the clasps, cast the shackles to the sea
They flee from themselves and they can't understand
They burn humanity in their search to be free
But freedom's not for sale
When you run for the moonlight
To dance on a ray and become
What you knew to be true but the time flew by
You been searching for a reason why
And I, I will be there for you
To search for you wherever you are
And I, I will be there for you
To look for you wherever you go
