Mothers Cry

The Explosion

Why are you coming back again?
Why are you seeing the same old friends?
Why are you coming around?Don't you see it's the same old thing?
The same sad news that I had to bring
To everyone in townWe both know that people come and go
You'll second guess, no regrets
It's alright 'cause good friends never die
Even if we make our mothers cryWhy are you turning your back again?
Don't rely on the simple thingsIf you could, you'd never try
So don't keep singing the same old songs
'Cause the prases are all out on loan
And it makes our mothers cryWe both know that people come and go
You'll second guess, no regrets
It's alright 'cause good friends never die
Even if we make our mothers cryPlease don't be shocked now
Sometimes we fall out, but we'll get back now'Cause what we've got will set you free
These time are getting tight again
Spent everything but my last red cent
And it seems I've hit the ground againIs your face dry 'cause facing you is hard enough
And facing truth is in our blood
And this is getting serious, so please don't cryWe both know that people come and go
You'll second guess, no regrets
It's alright 'cause good friends never die
Even if we make our mothers cry

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/