

Stronger When You Hold Me

Winter Mountain

There's something about you angel the way you move like smoke across the floor and I'll confess there is no memory in my head that I have ever wanted more Oh, its like I'm counting stars that I dont deserve to see and there's one thing I know for sure I'm stronger when you hold me life is what it should be when I am in your arms
life is what it should be when I am in your arms And I'll dream about the imperfections I discover in your skin and how I am the lucky one for sure 'cos when I knocked upon your door you took me in and how our weird little worlds collide with such a din that it shook me to the very core mama I'm stronger when you hold me
life is what it should be when I am in your arms Oh there's something about you angel you float like a butterfly towards a flame oh and to try and find the words to paint your beauty would surely be in vain] Am I losing my touch? "Give it all or give it up" that's what you told me and I'm taking it to heart I'm stronger
when you hold me
