

Flander's Fields

Big Head Todd And The Monsters

In Flander's fields where the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row by row
To mark our places and in the sky
The larks go bravely singing, "Fly"
Scarce heard amongst the guns below
From Flander's fields
We will come running home
From Flander's fields
We will rise up
Singing
We will rise up
We were together short days ago
Breathe the air, saw the sunset glow
Loved and were loved but now we lie
In Flander's fields I hear her cry
In Flander's fields I hear her cry
From Flander's fields
We will come running home
From Flander's Fields
We will rise up
Singing
We will rise up
Singing
We will rise up
Take up your quarrel with the foe
To you from flailing hands we throw
The torch be yours so hold it high
We will not sleep though we lie
We will not sleep though we lie
From Flander's fields
We will come running home
From Flander's fields
We will rise up
Singing
We will rise up
