

The Greatest Flame

Runrig

Like shadows on the wall you come and you go through the streets and the rain that falls down on our sin
no more good-byes forever this way whenever the greatest flame in the world starts burningthis is our life, and our time and nothing, is ever going to break us now we're on our ownalways in your eyes a waking of souls we gaze out on the road that brought us up to this place the signposts never change we'll go where they lead whenever the day to break us comes we'll not give inthis is our life, and our time and nothing, is ever going to break us now we're on our ownlive the day when the flame is strong live the day when the flame is strong come the day when love is gone take it over, take it overthis is our life, and our time and nothing, is ever going to break us now we're on our own this is our place, in our lives and no one can ever change this moment or pull this mountain to the groundthis is our life, this is our time and no one can ever change this moment
