Too Late Now

Icehouse

Just give me the sign and I'll be walking out that door
Don't want to remember this the way it was before
As the rain falls on the ocean and the desert feels the sign
We let it die here, let it slip right through our handsIt's too late now...too late to love, too late to cry
So don't look back...another place, another time
Too late now...to start again, to wonder why...too late nowJust give me the word, though it may be so hard to sing
Just give me a reason why it had to end this way
Steady holding onto nothing like a child, yeah, like a fool
Though you've God, I won't forget, it's the only thing I knowIt's too late now...too late to love, too late to cry
So don't look back...another place, another time
Too late now...to start again, to wonder why...too late nowJust give me the signIt's too late now...too late to love, too late to cry
So don't look back...another place, another time
Too late now...to start again, to wonder why...too late now
Too late now...(ah ah)...Too late now...(ah ah)...
Don't look back...(ah ah)...Too late now...(ah ah)...
