

Requiem (we Will Remember)

Saxon

Somewhere in the night
A candle burns for you
The eternal flame
The light keeps shinin' on Your music is immortal
It's stood the test of time
You're gone but not forgotten
You walk with us We will remember
They were born to rock and roll
We will remember
Whoa, whoa This song's a celebration
Of what you gave to us
The legacy you left
Still marches on Still they play your music
All around the world
Blasting through the airwaves
To the stars We will remember
They were born to rock and roll
We will remember
Whoa, whoa From London to Chicago
From the mountains to the sea
The legacy you left
Will never die We will remember
They were born to rock and roll
We will remember
Whoa, whoa, yeah We will remember
They were born to rock and roll
We will remember
Whoa, whoa From London to Chicago
From the mountains to the sea We will remember
They were born to rock and roll
We will remember
Whoa, whoa We will remember
They were born to rock and roll
We will remember
Whoa, whoa We will remember
They were born to rock and roll
We will remember, yeah
Whoa, whoa We will remember
They were born to rock and roll

We will remember

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>