Destiny Calls

Seventh Wonder

Falling forsaken trough the dark
Tic-tock time is ticking backwards
Can't deny
Watching a man spawned from a kiss
Settle a coin toss for this odd lossIt's alright now they cannot hold me down
Blinded eyes open before us
- I just don't know why
That the two were gone forever in time
Open up my mind tonight
Open up my eyesWhen destiny calls I'm a man
Who will rise above the fire
Paradise - waits forever
I won't apologize - from the shadows
I rise to her warm embraceWhen love hurts...
I will always find a way to carry you
Since we have the truthBothering visions I can see
Left all alone inside this house
Of fear and night
Crying in the hallway on my knees...
Battling a stranger who will change herI'm alright now but I can't figure out
The things I am feeling inside me- I just had to cry
And the love survived
Through oceans of time
Not one of us will leave tonight
But only one will stayWhen destiny calls I'm a man
Who will rise above the fire
In her eyes - destiny calls
I went beyond all lies - from the shadows
I rise to her loving faceIs there someone there I feel so scared
Playtime's over now
I open the door and sit by the age-old mirrorRaise my head and stare into Broken eyes of anotherI have found myself
Locked in the both of them
Hear me now,
I'm throwing my bonds away!
Throwing all my bonds away!
