

You Haven't Left Me Yet

George Strait

The laughter is gone
The cryin' is over
And I'm not losin' sleep anymore
The walls are bare
The closet's half empty
The phone doesn't ring like before
I'm done with fallin' apart
I'm waitin' for my change of heart I wake up alone
Knowin' I'm on my own again
Got it all straight in my head
Must be somethin' I missed
As I went down the list
Of the things I need to forget
Everything's gone
But you haven't left me yet I painted our room
Replaced all the curtains
And there's a new rug on the floor
Called up the Good Will
Said come and get it
Everything she left behind is yours
I can still see you drivin' away
So why do I still see your face
When I wake up alone
Knowin' I'm on my own again
Got it all straight in my head
Must be somethin' I missed
As I went down the list
Of the things I need to forget
Everything's gone
But you haven't left me yet

Songwriters

ROBBINS, KENT M. / OGLESBY, DANA HUNT Published by Lyrics © Universal Music Publishing Group, MUY BUENO MUSIC GROUP

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>